DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 34, 35, 39, 40, 43, and 47, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Scadding (US 4,706,615 A).

Scadding discloses a radiator arrangement comprising a supporting frame including a transverse air guiding element constructed in one-piece and placed rearward the radiator with an upper cross member extending above the radiator and guiding the flow downward to the bottom outlet 30, as shown in figure 1. The side cheeks would inherently be the side walls of the conduit.

With respect to claims 39 and 43, Scadding discloses a fastening link (or flange) on the top part of the conduit, as shown in figure 1.

With respect to claims 40 and 47, the conduit of Scadding is capable of housing radiators of different heights especially if the angle is adjusted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 36-38, 41-42, 44-46, and 48-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Scadding, as applied to claims 34 and 35 above.

Scadding does not disclose the materials used to manufacture the conduit, however the use of lightweight metals, such as aluminum, and lightweight plastics are well known in the art for providing durability at low weights and therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have made the conduit of Scadding with plastic, aluminum, or any other lightweight material for the benefit of lightweight durability.

With respect to claims 44-46, the conduit of Scadding is capable of housing radiators of different heights especially if the angle is adjusted.

With respect to claims 48-50, the conduit of Scadding is capable of housing radiators of different heights especially if the angle is adjusted.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 9/11/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With respect to the applicant's arguments concerning Scadding, the horizontal top portion of Scadding acts as the support frame, the radiator is not positively recited and therefore the radiators location relative to the support frame has been given little patentable weight.

Conclusion

1. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
